LASER HAIR REMOVAL

Lynton Laser – NHS approved

Laser Hair Removal is a highly effective and proven method to remove unwanted hair on the body and face. Suitable for all skin types, an average of 6 to 10 treatments are needed every 4– 6 weeks to destroy the hair follicles beneath the skin. It is a great alternative to traditional methods such as waxing, shaving and threading that can often include having to grow hairs, discomfort during the removal stage and damage to the skin leaving ingrown hairs. We use Lynton's finest machines and technology, which are NHS approved

MICRO NEEDLING

Micro needling is a new treatment that promises younger looking skin. Micro-needling has been seen as a non-invasive way to achieve youthful, dewy looking skin. It's a treatment whereby a device with small needles is pushed or rolled over your face and neck area to create controlled punctures, which force your skin into repair mode, producing collagen and elastin. Those with a fear of needles shouldn't discard this technique straight away as the microneedle length can vary from 1.5 to 3.0 mm, which is incredibly tiny, and these devices are gentle enough to be used around the delicate eye area. The number of sessions depends on the skin condition, but typically you're looking at 3-5 treatments every 4-6 weeks.

A maintenance programme is advised to maintain collagen.

Micro Needling (1 hour Treatment)	£150.00
Small target Area (30 mins)	£75.00

ADVANCED COSMETIC PROCEDURES

Advanced cosmetic procedures is a new adaptation of an existing well established and safety proven treatment, namely electrolysis. Electrolysis in its usual form is best known as a permanent hair removal procedure which works by passing an electrical current into the root of the hair follicle and killing it. However, electrical current can also be used to remove skin blemishes such as skin tags, warts and thread veins without surgery.

ADVANCED ELECTROLYSIS PROCEDURES

The treatment inserts a probe, the width of a hair, into the hair follicle and delivers an electrical current. The current passes down the probe to heat and destroy the hair's root, which prevents further hair growth.
